

Radically Different: Set Apart for God in the Workplace

The National Conference for Christians in Nursing, Midwifery and the Allied Health Professions

In a secular workplace, where the values of God's Kingdom are seldom respected and often treated with antagonism, how can we as Christian health professionals stand firm by the Gospel, while retaining professional integrity?

At this year's joint conference for Christians in the allied health professions, nursing and midwifery, Tim Cudmore will be leading us through what the Bible says about being set apart for God's service in our every day work. There will also be opportunity to discuss the personal implications of the talks in small groups and to pray for one another.

This is well known as a friendly conference with plenty of time for good food and fellowship, as well as times for prayer, worship, learning and reflection.

This year we are returning to Hebron Hall, a well equipped conference centre in the beautiful Vale of Glamorgan.

Who is the Conference For?

The conference is open to all qualified, students & assistants in Nursing, Midwifery or the Allied Health Professions. (The Allied Health Professions include: Physiotherapy, Radiography, Occupational Therapy, Podiatry, Dietetics, Speech & Language Therapy, Prosthetics, Orthotics, Art Therapy, Music Therapy, Drama Therapy, Orthoptics, Optometry and Audiology). Those still seeking work post graduation are very welcome!

Booking Fees

Members of CNM and CTN

£65 early bird
£70 after January 1st

Non-Members

£70 early bird
£75 after January 1st

Student Members (TSCF and CNM)

£40 early bird
£45 after January 1st

Students non-members, unemployed and non-qualified workers

£45 early bird
£50 after January 1st

Radically Different: Set Apart for God in the Workplace

The National Conference for Christians in Nursing, Midwifery and the Allied Health Professions

February 1-3 2008, Hebron Hall, Dinas Powis, Vale of Glamorgan

